Request for Comments

Pursuant to requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, the Kansas Department of Wildlife and Parks announces the release of a draft environmental assessment entitled "Rainbow Trout Stocking in the South Fork Solomon River Directly Upstream of Webster Reservoir." This project proposes a test stocking of rainbow trout in March 2000. Annual stocking of the trout will be considered based on results of the test stocking and its effects on resident fish and invertebrate communities and angler satisfaction with the program.

Interested groups and individuals are encouraged to provide comments regarding this assessment to: Federal Aid Coordinator, Kansas Department of Wildlife and Parks, Suite 502, Landon State Office Building, 900 S.W. Jackson, Topeka, 66612. Review copies may be requested from the above address or by calling (785) 296-2281. Persons with a hearing impairment may contact the department using the Kansas Relay Center at (800) 766-3777. Written comments should be received by August 28.

Notice of Special Local Need Registration

Notice is hereby given that the Kansas Corn Growers Association and Crop Quest Inc. have requested, on behalf of Kansas corn farmers, a special local need (SLN) registration, Section 24(c) FIFRA exemption, to allow the use of Tilt® (EPA Registration Number 100-617) for the control of gray leaf spot (Cercospora zeae maydis) and other foliar diseases on corn through 100 percent blister stage (when the kernels of corn are white outside and resemble a blister). The current federal label allows the use of Tilt® on corn up to 50 percent silk. The Kansas Department of Agriculture approved the SLN registration effective on July 16, 1999, after surveys conducted the previous week by Kansas State University (KSU) and corn producers indicated that the outbreak of gray leaf spot in 1999 was the most severe for this time of season than in previous seasons. Yield losses of 40 percent or more have been reported in fields where the disease went untreated. While KSU Extension encourages the use of resistant hybrids, none of the current hybrids available to growers has adequate resistance when disease conditions are as severe as they are currently. The outbreak and rapid development of the disease was attributed, in part, to an unusual cool and wet spring throughout most of Kansas.

The SLN registration is based on two main criteria:

(1) Better timing of the application for improved performance. Because Tilt® could not be applied after silking, its effectiveness against gray leaf spot and other diseases was impeded. Many corn producers had to apply the fungicide earlier than the optimum timing because of label restriction. This practice does not fit well into integrated pest management (IPM) practices, which dictate that a fungicide not be applied until the disease reaches an action threshold.

(2) Avoiding worker exposure of Tilt® to detasselers. During the tassel and silking stages of seed corn, workers must be in the field for mechanical and then hand detasseling. The timing of these operations conflicts with the scheduling of Tilt® applications on the current federal label. The result is either risk of increased worker exposure or a failure to apply Tilt®, resulting in yield loss. If applications can be made after silking, for which the SLN provides, detasseling operations could be completed before Tilt® application and worker exposure.

This SLN registration is economically and environmentally beneficial because it provides greater efficacy and more flexibility to growers and commercial applicators. Pursuant to 7 U.S.C. 136v, Novartis Crop Protection, Inc. has filed with the Kansas Department of Agriculture (KDA) as application for the SLN registration action.

All required residue data and risk assessment information already exist as part of the U.S. EPA registration of Tilt® fungicide through 50 percent silk. Additional residue studies conducted by the registrant indicate that extending the application window from 50 percent silk to 100 percent blister do not exceed the current tolerances of 0.10 part per million for grain. Almost all the analyzed samples of stover (material that becomes fodder or forage) by Novartis had residue levels below the 0.10 ppm established tolerance. As an additional safeguard, Novartis Crop Protection, Inc. has added the following statement on the SLN label to prevent potential exceedance of the tolerance: "Do not feed forage or fodder." Novartis intends to submit for federal registration the same use as granted by the SLN registration. Approval of this SLN request is necessary to address needs of growers until a federal label amendment can be approved. Efficacy information has been provided to the KDA in support of the SLN registration.

Copies of the SLN label and material safety data sheet (MSDS) were made available to the Kansas Department of Health and Environment and to the Kansas Department of Wildlife and Parks. The KDA emphasizes that the federal label under the heading "Environmental Hazards" specifically states, "This pesticide is toxic to fish. For terrestrial uses, do not apply directly to water, or to areas where surface water is present. . . Do not contaminate water when disposing of equipment wash waters. Refer to product labeling for use restrictions to protect endangered species."

Information submitted by the applicant and letters of support for the requested SLN registration are on file with the Pesticide Program, Kansas Department of Agriculture, 109 S.W. 9th, Topeka, 66612-1281.

Notice of Hearing on Proposed Administrative Regulations

A public hearing will be conducted at 10 a.m. Tuesday, September 28, in the Landon State Office Building, sixth floor conference room, 900 S.W. Jackson, Topeka, to consider the adoption of proposed new regulations concerning secure residential treatment facilities.

The time period between publication of this notice and the scheduled hearing serves as the required public comment period of at least 60 days for the purpose of receiving written public comments on the proposed regulations. All interested parties may submit written comments prior to the hearing to Gene Lueger, Department of Health and Environment, Suite 203, Capitol Tower, 400 S.W. 8th, Topeka, 66603.

All interested parties will be given a reasonable opportunity to present their views orally on the adoption of the proposed regulations during the hearing. In order to give all parties an opportunity to present their views, it may be necessary to request that each participant limit any oral presentation to five minutes.

Any individual with a disability may request accommodation in order to participate in the public hearing and may request the proposed regulations and economic impact statement in an accessible format. Requests for accommodation should be made at least five working days in advance of the hearing by contacting Gene Lueger, (785) 296-0088.

Copies of the complete text of the regulations and the economic impact statement may be obtained by contacting Gene Lueger. A summary of the proposed regulations and their economic impact follows.

K.A.R. 28-4-330 through 28-4-343. These proposed new regulations provide a basis for the licensing of secure residential treatment facilities for youth ages 10 to 21. At the present time no such regulations exist, limiting applicants to the regulations for nonclinical programs such as secure care centers and detention centers for youth. The Juvenile Justice Authority has identified the need for secure clinical treatment programs for a population of its youth which would be eligible for Medicaid funding. These offenders are currently being cared for in existing juvenile detention facilities that are unable to provide the necessary clinical treatment for these youth. These regulations will have a positive impact on the Juvenile Justice Authority's ability to serve these youth in a secure setting and will enable providers in the state to design appropriate secure treatment programs.

There will be no added cost to the agency. It appears that funds needed for these programs already exist through Medicaid and JJA and that the regulations will not affect the cost to those affected. Youth will be able to receive appropriate treatment, community residents will be protected and the facilities will receive Medicaid funding. No other governmental agencies will incur additional costs as a result of these regulations.
